Fact: The wellness & beauty journey isn't one-size-fits-all.

These days, we're inundated with unrealistic expectations, fad diets, sponsored posts, and "too good to be true" promises.

It's almost impossible to know which practices and products will actually work.

At TAMMIRA, we're taking a more personal approach.

We built a tool to help people practice self-care, away from the societal pressures and mass misinformation that wreak havoc on our confidence and mental health.

We believe in practicing self-care, together.

We all crave authenticity, transparency, and connection.

We want to interact with and learn from others that we can trust.

That's where you come in.

We're building a community of Student Ambassadors to champion truth, serve as a reliable support system, and empower their peers to live their best lives.

As a TAMMIRA Student Ambassador, you can:

- Join a movement that seeks to restore trust and transparency in the wellness & beauty industry
- Empower your peers to prioritize self-care and build healthy habits
- Promote the app on your campus and strengthen your community
- Create content you're passionate about and earn money for sharing your skills
- Gain invaluable leadership and professional development experiences

Share your skills.
Help others.
Get paid to do what you love.
